

HOST YOUR OWN RYDER CUP AT THE GLENEAGLES HOTEL

In celebration of The Ryder Cup matches returning to Gleneagles PGA Centenary Course in 2014, the hotel is offering the opportunity to hold your own tournaments on any of its three world-class 18 hole courses. The hotel will arrange everything needed for the competition on either the King's, Queen's or PGA Centenary courses right down to score cards printed with your company logo.

Russell Smith, Head Professional at Gleneagles, said: 'We're very much looking forward to hosting the Ryder Cup matches in 2014. However, as a resort, we're proud to be able to offer a golf course that will suit every ability from beginner to professionals. Any golfer can come to Gleneagles and enjoy the same experience as the professionals will for the Ryder Cup from the arrival at our front desk to a celebration dinner and prize giving'.

Set in 850 acres of stunning Perthshire countryside, The Gleneagles Hotel has a wide variety of other indoor and outdoor activities for guests not wishing to take on the challenges on the golf course. The multi-award-winning Spa at Gleneagles by ESPA is a perfect place to unwind and relax.

The hotel offers a wide variety of golf packages which can be tailor-made for a unique and memorable experience. Prices for a Ryder Cup match of your own start at £125.00 per golfer for teams of eight or more.

- The Ryder Cup is the most prestigious competition in golf and has its historical roots firmly planted in Gleneagles as the King's Course played host to the 1921 international challenge
- That informal golfing tournament between British and American teams was the first time the nations had ever come together in competition but it was another six years before the first official Ryder cup matches
